Step 1: Optimizing Your Keywords The Right Way

The first thing you need to do is optimize your keywords. This is one of the things you absolutely must implement right to rank well in search engines.

Here's a quick explanation of how keyword optimization works...

What is keyword optimization?

The special SEO technique called keyword optimization helps you choose the right keywords, and then use them to increase your Website's rankings.

When it comes to keyword optimization, there are just two all-important things you need to optimize for... And these are Anchor Text Optimization and Page Title Optimization. We'll cover them right below in a bit more detail.

How do anchor texts work?

An anchor text is simply the clickable part of the hyperlink. Here's a sample hyperlink that points to www.some-site.com, with the "Click Here To Visit SomeSite.Com!" anchor:

Click Here To Visit SomeSite.Com!

And the HTML code to produce this link looks like this:

<A HREF="www.some-site.com">Click Here To Visit SomeSite.Com!</A>

Anchor texts are hugely important for high rankings. Google and other search engines look at the anchor text of the links pointing to you, and rank you higher for the keywords found within the anchors of these links.

E.g. if your site has lots of links pointing to it that have "blue widgets" in their anchor texts, your site will almost certainly rank very well for the term "blue widgets". So whenever somebody types in "blue widgets" in Google, your site will come up on top.

How to properly optimize your anchor text

There are 2 simple things you need to do:

1. Use your main keywords in your anchor texts, and...
2. Vary the wording in your anchor texts slightly

Here's the top list of keyphrases you need to use in your anchors to outrank your competition in search engines:

Best keyphrases		Help
Keyphrase ▼
1	corporate web design
2	web design company
3	contact grantcom
4	web design ma
5	affordable web design

Use these exact keyphrases whenever you:

- Ask somebody to place a link to you...
- Buy links from homepages or buy site-wide links...
- Post on forums and blogs...
- Submit to directories...
- Submit articles and include a link to your site...
- Write a press-release about your product or service...

In addition, remember to vary your anchors slightly from time to time. This will make your links look more natural, so search engines will rank you higher.

Here's a list of individual keywords you can add to your anchors to create different variations:

Best keywords		Help

2	design
3	corporate

How to properly optimize your page title

Page title is what you see in the titlebar of your browser when you visit a site. A properly optimized page title should:

- Be short. Try to limit your title to 80-100 character max.
- Include your main keywords. The least number of words you can place in your title, the more weight search engines will give to each of the keywords and the higher you'll rank.
- Not include any unnecessary "stop words". These are words like "and", "or", "this", "the", etc. These words are ignored by search engines anyway, and only eat up the valuable title space.

Title examples optimized for "blue widgets" and "widget accessories"

Here's an example of an outright bad title, which does not include our keywords:

Welcome to our website!

The HTML code used to create this title is:

<TITLE>Welcome to our website!</TITLE>

This title is not bad, but could be better for the purpose of optimizing it for "blue widgets" and "widget accessories":

Cool Blue Widgets And Widget Accessories

The HTML code used to create this title is:

<TITLE>Cool Blue Widgets And Widget Accessories</TITLE>

And here's an excellent title optimized for the keyphrases "blue widgets" and "widget accessories":

Blue Widgets | Widget Accessories

And the HTML code used to create this title is:

<TITLE>Blue Widgets | Widget Accessories</TITLE>

Notice that the best title:

- Eliminates all the unnecessary words
- Contains ONLY the main keywords
- Uses the "pipe" character ("|") to visually separate words in the title for the human visitors (search engines will not see this character.)

And remember one thing: A well-optimized page title can literally boost your rankings by 200-300 positions, in as little as 24-48 hours! So this is an important step towards a #1 placement in Google.

Step 2: Increasing Your Site's Importance With Google

Google is THE biggest search engine out there, so getting Google to view your site as important is crucial for having high rankings. So how do you do that? Simple: by boosting the Google PageRank of your site.

Here's a quick no-brainer guide to PageRank...

So what is PageRank?

Literally, it is the value Google assigns to your page. PageRank is simply a numeric representation (from 0 to 10) of how important a page is to Google, with 10 being the highest value. From now on, PageRank will sometimes be referred to as simply "PR".

It works like this. Google figures that when one page links to another page, it is essentially casting a "vote" for that other page. The more "votes" a page has, the more important the page.

But it gets even more interesting. Not all "voters" are equal. This means, the importance of the page that's casting the vote determines how important the vote itself is. So the higher the PR of the page that's casting the vote, the "weightier" the vote, and the higher the rankings.

Here's a quick summary:

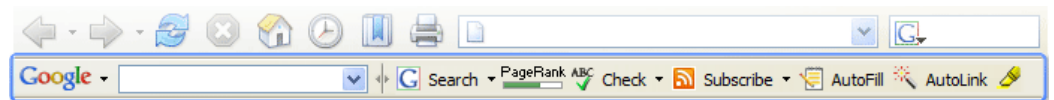

- PageRank is Google's way of deciding your site's importance, and takes the values of 0 to 10.
- 0 is the lowest PageRank, while 10 is the highest.
- PageRank is one of the critical factors that can make or break your rankings.
- The more links (or "votes") from high PageRank pages your site has, the greater its importance in Google.

From now on, PageRank will sometimes be referred to as simply "PR".

How can I view PageRank for my site?

The easiest way to do that is by installing the Google Toolbar. Google Toolbar is available for Internet Explorer and Mozilla Firefox. With it, you'll be able to view the PR of any site you visit. Just take a look at the little green stripe on the toolbar.

Here's a sample screenshot of a site in a browser with Google Toolbar installed:

As you can see, this site has a PR of 6, which is very good. Most developed sites have a PR of 4 or 5.

Note: While PR is certainly very important, remember that you do not need to get a PR much greater than your competitor's! The same PR or +1 is enough. E.g. if your competitor has a PageRank of 4, all you need is 4 or 5. If your competitor's PR is just 3, get a PR of 4 and you'll be fine.

How do I boost my PageRank?

In short, you need links from high PageRank sites. This is different in each specific case. Below is the exact list of sites you should get links from to boost your PR. Buy, beg or steal, but you absolutely need links from at least these important resources (also, for optimum results, your links must come from the exact pages in the "Page" column!):

The exact steps you need to take right now...

Basically, you have 3 simple options on how to get these sites to link to you:

1. Swap links. Place a link on your site somewhere, then email the webmasters asking for a similar favor in return. Explain the value of link exchange, and most webmasters will gladly place a link back to you. Here's a sample email template you can use (it's a sample, so feel free to tweak it as you need):

Hello,

I'm the webmaster of www.yoursite.com. I've just came across your site, and I really liked both the design and the content.

Also, because your site's theme is related to mine, I feel that my visitors will find it a valuable resource. So I went ahead and placed a link to you here:

www.yoursite.com/resources.html

I'd really appreciate it if you returned the favor and put a link to me somewhere on your site.

Thanks,
Josh

2. Offer something. That's right, just offer something valuable or interesting in exchange for a link. Examples may include a discount on your product, a free copy of it, a free eBook, writing an article that features a site you're interested in, making a post on your blog, etc. etc. Just use your imagination!
3. Buy links. This is the fastest way, but of course there's a price to pay. Just email the site's webmasters and ask how much it would cost to get a link. Most of them will be happy to sell you a link for as little as $30-40 a month.

And remember, get links from the exact pages mentioned above, and you'll be well on your way to a massive increase in Google rankings, guaranteed!

Step 3: Finding High-Quality Link Partners And Getting More Link Love

The fastest way to get more link love

Exchanging links with other websites (link exchange, or link swaps) is probably the fastest, cheapest way of getting massive link love and rankings in search engines ever devised. There are many different ways to arrange a link exchange with webmasters.

The simplest way of doing it is to email another website owner and ask to do a link exchange (take a look at the sample email template on Step2.)

Note: The important thing you need to remember is that the sites you exchange links with must be topically-related to your site. That is, the theme of your site must complement, but not compete with that of your link partners.

Example: If you are selling "blue widgets", it's a good idea to swap links with "widget accessories" sites. But it would be a bad idea in this case to exchange links with real estate or gambling sites.

How do I find quality link partners that match my site's theme?

Finding high-quality theme-related partners is a tedious task. So to save you the trouble, below is a great list of link partners you should swap links with. All these are considered high-class topically-related by ALL major search engines, including Google, Yahoo! and MSN.

Also, all these sites actually do link exchange, so you will have no problem of getting them to link to you.

Quality link pages you need your link on

It's simple: You need to get links from the exact pages below to get a dramatic boost in search engines positions. These Webpages have been conveniently sorted in the order of importance, which is measured by the exact "Link Value" each page will give you.

Note: Although Google PageRank of each page is important, the list has been sorted by Link Value. Link Value takes into account the number of outbound as well as internal links on a page, so this is a much more accurate and (powerful!) estimate. So don't be surprised if a PR5 page sometimes has a lower link value than a PR 4 page. This is how professional SEOs measure a link's value.

Here's the list:

Step 4: Using Articles And Press Releases For High-Quality Links And Publicity

Why is this important

Writing articles and distributing press-releases has always been a great way to get publicity and sales, but it's also important for search engine optimization purposes. Lots of professional press-releases scattered on the Net that mention your product or service, or numbers of high-performance articles devoted to your specific niche - these both can make a huge difference for your site's rankings!

And the reason article and press release distribution works so well for SEO is because:

- Articles and press-releases provide high-quality one-way links to your site. Just make sure you include a link somewhere in the author's bio, or as a homepage of your product, and you're guaranteed to have a ton of high-quality links!
- What is even more important is that articles and press-releases provide excellent, theme-related context for your links (which search engines place great value on), so using this method will give your site even more weight and prominence in the search engines results!

Where should I submit articles?

Here's an excellent list of article directories you should use to submit your articles to:

Step 5: Unleashing Your Competitors' Biggest Traffic Sources

Finding out which sites are sending your competitors a hoard of visitors is a powerful way of increasing your own site's traffic! Below you will find a list of traffic-intensive resources that your competition is using to drive visitors to their sites. These are the sites with the highest Alexa Rank values of all the sites that link to your competitor.

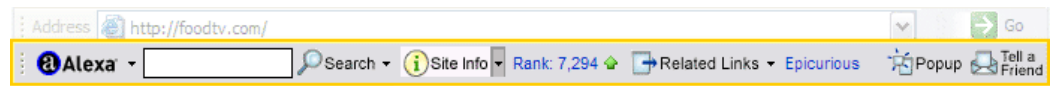

Alexa is a very powerful tool used to rank web site traffic. The value calculated by Alexa is trusted all over the globe and is commonly referred to as Alexa Rank or Alexa Traffic Rank.

Here's a bit more info on Alexa Rank...

How can I get a site's traffic estimate?

The simple way of doing that is to install the Alexa Toolbar. Once installed in your browser, it will let you see the traffic rank of any site you're visiting.

Here's a sample screenshot of a site in a browser with Alexa Toolbar installed:

Note: Don't be confused by the traffic rank values. Lower values mean bigger traffic! So the #1 traffic site has a traffic rank of 1.

Social media at a glance

Social media sites, blogs, and forums are one more lever to use. They provide a great way to increase your traffic. Get your site mentioned on social media sites - and this can send an ongoing stream of interested people to your webpage.

So when it comes to SEO, social media sites, blogs, and forums provide a great way to harness the power of word-of-mouth and increase your traffic.

Additionally, the new Google places great value on social media, especially blogs, by ranking the sites blogs link to higher. So getting the attention of bloggers and getting them to link to you is a shortcut to a top Google placement!

Your competitor's using the following blogs, forums and social media sites for Web promotion:

Note: Don't be confused by the traffic rank values. Lower values mean bigger traffic! So the #1 traffic site has a traffic rank of 1.

Step 7: Using Internet Directories To Boost Your Rankings

What's a directory and why should I care?

An Internet directory specializes in linking to other sites and categorizing those links. Directories often allow site owners to directly submit their sites for inclusion, and have editors review submissions for fitness.

For the purposes of search engine optimization, such directories provide an excellent way to obtain high-quality links and increase your rankings.

The biggest directories

Two of the Internet's biggest directories are DMOZ and Yahoo! Directory. If your site is listed in both of them, your chances of ranking high in Google and Yahoo! increase dramatically! Here's a brief overview of both of them:

- DMOZ (aka Open Directory Project or ODP) is a huge (and free!) directory that features a vast variety of topics. You should seriously consider submitting your site to it. Google and other search engine favor sites that are in DMOZ, and rank them higher. Click here to visit the DMOZ submission page.
- Yahoo! Directory is not free, but its quality is also superb. Yahoo! will give more weight to a site listed in the Yahoo! Directory, so you should probably consider a paid inclusion if Yahoo! rankings are your top priority. Click here to visit the Yahoo! Directory submission page.

Other directories that are worth your while

There are hundreds of thousands of directories on the Net, so which ones are worth your time?

Below is an extensive list of the recommended directories you should submit to. All these directories have been hand-picked for you, so their quality is outstanding. And the best news is that these all are totally free to join!

Here's the monster list of over 1,200 directories:

Final Words

The real secret of an effective search engine strategy is achieving excellent search positions for your site so that anyone can find you.

Optimizing your site is a continuous process you need to successfully run. This is a complex and time-consuming task. It involves finding out your competitor's SEO strategy, carrying out your own link-building campaign, monitoring your rankings etc.

Still it is exciting and fulfilling when you get to the top in the search engines and ahead of your competition! And we are to make this process easier and the fruit of your job even more satisfying.

If you implement the above 7 steps exactly as described, your traffic will at least double! In many cases, you can expect an even greater boost to your rankings and free traffic from the search engines.

Here are just some more hints for your attention:

Analyze More Sites, And Get A Better Estimate Of How Competitive A Niche Really Is

Pick at least 3-5 competing sites in your niche and analyze them ALL, in all the major search engines.

This will give you a much deeper insight into what your niche competition are doing on the SEO field. Remember, every competition analysis report is specially designed to help you outrank a specific competitor. And because each competitor employs different optimization tricks, the data provided in different reports will, of course, be slightly different.

So if you have analyzed 3 of your top competitors and got 3 slightly different reports, just use each of them to optimize 3 different pages on your Website — and you will literally TRIPLE your chances for a #1 search engine placement!
